

I am thinking of...

- » returning home.
- » I want to continue my life.
- » I want to return with dignity.
- » I want to benefit from the assistance if possible.
- » This could be the best option for me.

I want to...

- » find a place to live
- » work or study
- » start a business
- » get support to continue my life

I can be assisted in

- » getting the travel document
- » get the tickets

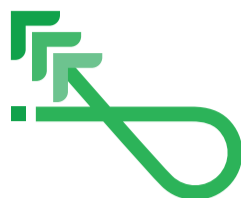

- » travel all the way to my city in my return country
- » get help with medical or other needs

I can continue my life

- » I can get cash assistance
- » Or I can get assistance in
 - » finding a job
 - » starting a business
 - » beginning or completing my studies
 - » renting a place
 - » getting healthcare

What can
I do

The Finnish Immigration Service implements the assisted voluntary return and reintegration programme within the framework of the Reception Act. IOM assists voluntary returnees with pre-departure counselling, travel arrangements, and post-arrival reintegration assistance, among other.

TURN LIFE

CONTINUE YOUR LIFE.

When you have received a negative decision on your asylum application, it is time to consider voluntary return. In addition to travel tickets, you can get support to start your studies or your employment in your home country.

Waiting will not take your life forward.
